DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is in response to amendments and remarks filed on 3 August 2009. Claims 1, 2, 3, 6, 7, 9, 11, 13, 15, 16 and 22 have been amended and claims 4 and 8 have been cancelled. Claims 1-3, 5-7 and 9-22 are currently pending and are presented for examination on the merits.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's argument regarding the 35 U.S.C. § 101 rejection of claim 1 has been fully considered but is not persuasive. The "verification system" has not been structurally defined within the disclosure other than the recitation of a "unit" which in the broadest reasonable interpretation could be software. The "account database" could also in the broadest reasonable interpretation be on paper. No positive recitation of a machine has been made within the claim as performing the method steps, nor is a physical transformation occurring. Therefore the rejection will be maintained.

3. Applicant's argument regarding the 35 U.S.C. § 101 rejection of claim 16 has been fully considered and is persuasive. Therefore the rejection will be withdrawn.

4. Applicant's argument regarding the 35 U.S.C. § 112, 2nd paragraph rejections of claims 1-22 has been fully considered and is persuasive. Therefore the rejections will be withdrawn.

5. Applicant's argument regarding the 35 U.S.C. § 102 (e) rejection of claims 1-3, 5-7 and 9-22 has been fully considered but is not persuasive. Applicant's claims are extremely broad. For example the limitation "based on at least one of a time the at least one stored personal detail was received" is disclosed by Hillmer in column 10, lines 38-

40 in the mention of the elapsed time period. The limitation "degree of personal exposure of an entity submitting the at least one stored personal detail" is disclosed by Hillmer in column 6, lines 46-51 relative to the "known good relationship". The limitation "an identification procedure performed upon receipt of the at least one stored personal detail" is disclosed by Hillmer in column 5, line 59 through column 6, lines 20 as AVS and CVV are both identification procedures performed on the receipt of the personal detail. Thus Hillmer discloses every element of Applicant's invention. Therefore the 35 U.S.C. § 102 (e) rejection will be maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

6. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

7. Claims 1-3, 5-7 and 9-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claim 1 recites a method of determining a reliability of a transaction but does not positively recite any structure upon which the method is being performed, nor is any physical transformation occurring. Based on Supreme Court precedent (See also Diamond v. Diehr, 450 U.S. 175, 184 (1981); Parker v. Flook, 437 U.S. 584, 588 n.9 (1978); Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 70 (1972); Cochrane v. Deener, 94 U.S. 780, 787-88 (1876)) and recent Federal Circuit decisions, a §101 process must (1) be tied to another statutory class (such as a particular apparatus) or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or materials) to a different state or thing. In addition, the tie to a particular apparatus, for example, cannot be mere extra-solution activity. See In re Bilski, 88 USPQ2d 1385 (Fed. Cir. 2008).

An example of a method claim that would not qualify as a statutory process would be a claim that recited purely mental steps.

To meet prong (1), the method step should positively recite the other statutory class (the thing or product) to which it is tied. This may be accomplished by having the claim positively recite the machine that accomplishes the method steps. Alternatively or to meet prong (2), the method step should positively recite identifying the material that is being changed to a different state or positively recite the subject matter that is being transformed.

In this particular case, claim 1 fails prong (1) because the method steps are not tied to a machine and can be performed without the use of a particular machine. Additionally, the claim(s) fail prong (2) because the method steps do not transform the underlying subject matter to a different state or thing.

8. Claims 2-3, 5-7 and 9-15 are also rejected as being dependent upon claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

9. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

10. Claims 1-3, 5-7, 9 and 11-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Hillmer et al. (U.S. Patent 6,714,918, hereinafter referred to as Hillmer).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

30. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

31. Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hillmer in view of Houvener et al. (U.S. Patent 6,070,141, hereinafter referred to as Houvener).

32. As per claim 10

Hillmer does not explicitly disclose wherein said verifying item is selected from the group consisting of government issued identification, a hand signature and biometric information. Houvener teaches IDs, signatures and biometric information (6:52-67, 9:16-38)

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine the system and method for detecting fraudulent transactions of Hillmer with the system and method of assessing the quality of an identification transaction using an identification quality score of Houvener for the purpose of identifying transactions where heightened scrutiny is warranted.

Please note:

A recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim.

Applicant(s) are reminded that optional or conditional elements do not narrow the claims because they can always be omitted. See e.g. MPEP §2106 II C: "Language that suggest or makes optional but does not require steps to be performed or does not limit a claim to a particular structure does not limit the scope of a claim or claim" limitation. [Emphasis in original.]"; and In re Johnston, 435 F.3d 1381, 77 USPQ2d 1788, 1790 (Fed. Cir. 2006) ("As a matter of linguistic precision, optional elements do not narrow the claim because they can always be omitted.").

Conclusion

33. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
